Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 recites a operating method for dividing and shifting television picture, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

2. Claims 8-15 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, set forth in this Office action.

3. Claims 1-7 appear allowable over prior art.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to show or fairly suggest a device for dividing and shifting television picture and its operating method, which having the combination as claimed, including a Set Top Box and a controller both connected to a television; the Set Top Box capably converts input analog video signal to the television into output digital video signal to display video picture capably divided into a contracted picture and a controlled picture on the screen, and once the television is switched on, the television screen is always displayed the contracted picture and the controlled picture simultaneously; and the controller have a controlling key used to divide and shift TV picture, when the controlling key is pushed the video picture is displayed into full size on the television screen, as recited the claims.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Dunn (5648824) discloses a video control user interface for controlling display of a video having a set-top box, a television and a remote control.

Wugofski (6201538) shows a controlling the layout of graphics in a television environment.

Enomoto (6367080) discloses an internet information displaying apparatus.

Knudson (6526577) shows an enhanced interactive program guide.
